Step 1: Be friendly and helpful at home

You can always find ways to lend a helping hand at home! When you're part of a family, you're part of a team. In a team, everyone needs to do their part. In this step, you'll come up with ways to do your part at home.

Choices—do one:

Create chore coupons. Think of three new ways you can be helpful at home. Maybe you could help water the plants. Or you could feed your pet. With help from an adult, cut three rectangular strips of paper. Draw a picture of one chore on each piece of paper. You can draw a picture of a plant for watering the plants. Or a picture of your pet for taking care of your pet. Share the coupons with your family. When they give a coupon back to you, you'll know how they need your help!

Be an inventor. Is there something you think your family needs help with at home? Is there something you could invent to help with a problem? Maybe you could make a robot that does the dishes. Or you could invent light bulbs that never blow out. Draw, sculpt, or build a model of your invention. Then share it with your family!

Good for One Chore

Good for One Chore

Good for One Chore